PSC PROMOTES TWO DIVISION DIRECTORS

JEFFERSON CITY—The Missouri Public Service Commission has appointed Dan Joyce as director of the Division of Administration and Regulatory Policy. The Commission has also appointed Kevin Thompson to replace Joyce as General Counsel.

As director, Division of Administration and Regulatory Policy, Joyce's duties will include supervision over the departments of budget and fiscal services, human resources, information services, consumer services and legislative and regulatory policy.

Dan Joyce has been the Commission's General Counsel since 1997. He previously served in managerial and legal positions at the Missouri Department of Social Services, the Office of Administration and the Missouri Supreme Court.

Kevin Thompson will oversee the PSC Office of the General Counsel which represents the Commission and its Staff in all matters relating to the regulation of Missouri investor-owned gas, electric, telecommunications, water and sewer utilities and manufactured housing. Its primary duties consist of assisting and advising agency staff in preparation and filing of evidence in legal proceedings, and preparing and presenting legal arguments in appearances before the Commission and state and federal courts and administrative tribunals.

Thompson has been a Deputy Chief Regulatory Law Judge with the Missouri Public Service Commission since 1999. He previously served in legal positions with the Administrative Hearing Commission and Missouri Protection and Advocacy Services. He also has engaged in private practice.
